

Economics 370Y: Economics of Organizations
2012-2013

Instructor: Prof. Arthur J. Hosios
Rm. 150, 150 St. George St.

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the economic analysis of organizations. We develop an understanding of when markets can solve the problems of coordinating activities and motivating individuals; and, when markets are less successful, how business organizations and special contractual relationships emerge as alternative institutions for allocating resources.

NOTE: The September 26th lecture is canceled. A make-up lecture will be given on Thursday the 27th, 6-8 pm in Rm 106, 150 St. George Street; the same lecture will be repeated on Friday the 28th, 3-5 pm in Rm 100, same building.

Prerequisites: ECO 200/204/206; ECO 220/227 (or STA equivalent)

Lecture Topics and Reading Assignments

The readings listed below are available through Blackboard (go to Readings in the Course Documents file). Students are responsible for the material described in square brackets following each reading (some changes in the assigned readings may be made during the course). Students are responsible for all assigned readings; a subset of the assigned readings will be discussed in lectures.

Questions based on each reading are also available through Blackboard (go to Problem Sets in the Course Documents file); a subset of these questions will reappear on term tests and the final examination. Only try the assigned questions.

Assigned readings and problems are described in the Blackboard Assignment file. Answers to problem sets are not publicly available; the instructor will, however, review answers prepared by students during lecture breaks and office hours.

Chapters from the following books will be used (you are not expected to purchase these books):

Rules of the Game:

Assessment is based on 3 in-class tests and a final examination. The tests and exam are each of 2 hours duration, are scheduled approximately every 6 weeks throughout the course, and cover the material assigned since the previous test.

- Test #1 October 10
Test #2 November 28
Test #3 February 13

The 3 in-class term tests count for 75% of the final grade (at 25% per test). An examination worth 25% of the final grade will be held during the spring examination period and will cover the material assigned after Test #3.

Missed Test: Students who miss a term test will be assigned a mark of zero for that test unless, within 48 hours of the test date, they submit to the instructor a written request for special consideration explaining the reason for missing the test. Appropriate documentation can be provided later; this documentation will be either a medical certificate indicating that the student was too ill to attend class or a college registrar's note. Students with satisfactory explanations for having missed a test will arrange with the instructor to write a make-up test before the next class.
