ECONOMICS 322H1S L0101: Canadian Economic History
Fall, 2023 (Thursdays, 10 AM – 1 PM in VC101, and Fridays, 9-10 AM in BA1210)

Kieran Furlong k.furlong@utoronto.ca
Office Hours: (Zoom online)

ECO322H1 F is an in-person course, though students will submit their reviews and essay online and I will conduct office hours through Zoom.

I will post readings and complete lecture notes in advance so that you can prepare for our seminars (10:10 to 11:00 AM Thursdays and Fridays EST) and lectures from 11:10 AM - 1:00 PM EST on Thursdays. You will submit your one-page reading reviews and 15-page essay as Ouriginal assignments on our Quercus page (see the Ouriginal statement below). We will use our Friday time period (10:00 -11:00 AM EST) for our March 3 in-person midterm and for one of the seminar groups for the other Fridays.

Evaluation	Two One-Page Reviews	(5% each)	10%
	Seminar Participation	(Up to one potential mark per seminar)	11%
	Midterm Exam	October 20: 9:00 – 10:00 AM in BA1210	14%
	15 page essay due	November 22 by midnight	25%
	Final Exam (3 hours)	Final Exam Period (December 9-20)	40%

This course surveys literature on Canadian economic history between 1850 and 1950, focusing on the debate over the ability of the market mechanism to optimize economic development. Kenneth Norrie, D. Oram, and J.C. Emery's A History of the Canadian Economy (Thomson Nelson, 2007) is useful but you need only read the articles given for each lecture.

The following explanation of procedures and evaluation of the course should clarify your responsibilities in the course. I will answer questions on this outline in the first hour of the first lecture. If you have any issues, you need to ask about them then. Please take advantage of this, since students must familiarize themselves with the requirements of the course.

The one-hour midterm (Friday, October 20, 9:00 – 10:00 AM) will take place in our seminar room BA1210. The 3-hour final exam (during the final examination period, December 9-20) will also be in-person. You will have a choice of 2 out of 3 essay-type questions for the midterm and of 5 out of 8 essay-type questions on the final. You must answer these questions in your own words. Students who miss the midterm will complete the Absence Declaration form on Acorn and write a make-up from 9-10 AM the following Friday, October 27, in a room to be determined. If you were to miss the final for some legitimate documented reason, you would write a make-up final. Please note that make-ups are more difficult than the regular exams since I use the fairest questions for the regular exams and have little comparison to judge the relative difficulty of make-up questions. In short, don't miss an exam unless you are incapacitated.

The 15-page essay (i.e., 15 double spaced pages with normal margins and 12-point type, not including bibliography) analyzes specific primary and secondary sources on one of three topics specified by me concerning issues discussed in the course. You will submit your essay to Ouriginal at our course site on Quercus by midnight, November 22. Since I will provide the readings online, I will not give any extensions. The penalty for lateness is a modest 1% (of 100%) per day up to the last day of class, which is another reason why I will not give extensions.. Late essays are not eligible for remarking. You may wish to consult the Faculty of Arts and Science Writings Centres for help in writing reviews and essays. You may wish to consult them for help with your writing. Note that you may have to discuss your essay orally with me to confirm that it is yours.

ECO322H1 L0101. Fall, 2023: Outline...

Each student will submit 2 one-page written, not point form, reviews of designated pages from your chosen assigned author for a potential 5 marks each. You must submit your reviews with 12-point type, double-spacing, and normal margins by 10:00 AM on the Wednesdays of your chosen seminar topics or there is a deduction of one of the five marks off the top before you submit it again properly. Note that there are two different readings each seminar; you are to sign up for only one of them. You will sign up for the readings that you review in either the Wednesday or the Friday seminar group in the Reviews tabs under People in Quercus. Students will sign up initially for Review 1 to present in the first 6 weeks and then will sign up later for the second review in the last 5 weeks. Note that there will be only enough review choices as students so that you need to sign up for a review immediately or risk having no available choice. Please submit your review as doc or docx files to the Assignment page for your group. Your review must be entirely on the pages that you are supposed to read; there should be no reference to ideas beyond those readings, although you may consult my notes or other sources to clarify your understanding. The purpose of these reviews is to improve your ability to convey the essence of a reading, not merely to summarize various points, which is why I will deduct 1 mark of the 5 marks for any review that is more than one page or without the proper format. Our TA will edit your review to give feedback on improving your writing, which you can apply in your 15-page essay. The reviews will also help you understand two of our issues as an added bonus. See the Academic Integrity Statement below for proper sourcing and writing on reviews and the essay.

You also acquire marks for participating in the seminars from 10:10 to 11:00 AM on Thursdays or 9:10 -10:00 AM on Fridays . Your seminar group will be the seminar that you signed up for to submit your review. We will assign per seminar ½ mark for a comment relevant to the material and another ½ mark for a comment that actually contributes to the understanding of other students, for a potential of 11 marks during the term. There are, of course, 0 marks for no comment. You will not receive marks for participating in the lecture discussions, but these will be vital for your understanding.
