Principal Thesis supervisor from July 1988 (Prof. George Rigg, co-supervisor)

Dissertation completed October 1995.

Mr. Armstrong successfully defended his thesis on 5 January 1996 (when the dissertation was accepted ‘as is’, without changes, a very rare acceptance).

Subsequently, this thesis received the Dissertation Prize: Ancient and Medieval Fields [as the best submitted in this field], at the Twelfth International Economic History Congress in Madrid, on 26 August 1998; and it has now been published, in much revised form, by the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies Press (Toronto, 2003).⁴

(16) OSMANN, Mr. Michael Peter: Centre for Medieval Studies

Dissertation topic:

‘Personal Wealth in Hurstingstone Hundred, Huntingdonshire, 1479 - 1558: A Study in Continuity in the Early Tudor Countryside’.

Although the principal supervisor of this dissertation is Prof. Ambrose Raftis of the Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, I have served in effect as the co-supervisor, since both the candidate and supervisor required my supervision for the extensive economic analyses in the thesis. I have read through and very extensively commented on the original draft, penultimate, and final versions of this dissertation, comprising 325 pages.

I also served as the Internal Appraiser for the Final Oral Examination.

⁴ Lawrin Armstrong, Usury and the Public Debt in Early Renaissance Florence: Lorenzo Ridolfi on the ‘Monte Comune’, Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies, Studies in Medieval Moral Teaching 4 (Toronto, 2003).

Mrs. Wakelin successfully defended her doctoral dissertation On 23 January 1998.

- (19) OTTO, Mr. Harold Arthur: Department of History

Dissertation topic:

‘Economics and Technology in Merchant Shipping in the Eighteenth Century Northern Bulk Trades’.

Co-Member of his PhD dissertation committee (along with Prof. Julian Dent, Department of History, principal supervisor; and Professor Bert Hall, Institute for the History and Philosophy of Science and Technology): from 30 April 1996. This student passed his PhD Comprehensive examinations in May 1996, and has met his language and all other requirements, except for the dissertation.

He has not produced any dissertation chapters; and his status is thus inactive.

- (20) TENG, Jimmy: Department of Economics

Dissertation topic:

‘Three Essays on the State’

Member of his advisory committee from March 1996; and also a member of the examination committee for his Final Oral Examination.

Mr Teng successfully defended his doctoral dissertation on 23 January 1997.

- * (21) THOMPSON, Mr. Edward Joel: Centre for Medieval Studies

Dissertation topic:

‘Aberdeen’s Economic Fortunes, 1398 - 1447’.

Principal supervisor of his PhD dissertation committee from June 1997. Having successfully passed his Major Field examination on 16 February 2001, and having had his PhD dissertation proposal accepted on 5 February 2001, he then commenced research on this dissertation topic; but further progress on his dissertation is no longer apparent.

He has not produced any dissertation chapters; and his status is thus inactive.

* (22) FORBES, Jennifer (Centre for Medieval Studies)

Dissertation topic:

‘The Economic and Social Lives of Building workers in French Flanders and Artois, 1300-1400’.

Principal supervisor of her PhD thesis committee [with Professor Bert Hall, IHPST; and Professor Malcolm Thurlby, York University]: from 1 January 1998.

She has not produced any dissertation chapters; and his status is thus inactive.

* (23) MASEMANN, Charlotte (Centre for Medieval Studies)

Dissertation topic:

‘Garden Produce in Medieval Ghent and Lübeck’

Principal supervisor of her PhD thesis committee [with Professor Bert Hall, IHPST; and Prof. Richard Hoffmann, Department of History, York University]: from 1 January 1998. She passed her Major Field examination, on 24 September 1998, with distinction. After spending a year doing research in Germany and Belgium, and two years in writing her chapters, she completed her dissertation, in the summer of 2004.

Ms. Masemann successfully defended her doctoral dissertation on 22 October 2004.

(24) FYNN-PAUL, Jeffrey (Centre of Medieval Studies)

Dissertation Topic:

‘The Catalan City of Manresa in the Fourteenth Century: a Political, Social, and Economic History’.

Mr. Fynn-Paul successfully defended his doctoral dissertation on 2 June 2005.

* (25) KRUG, Ilana (Centre for Medieval Studies)

Dissertation Topic:

‘Royal Prerogative Gone Astray: The Economic and Social Impact of Purveyance on the English Peasantry at the Beginning of the Hundred Years War’.

Principal supervisor of her PhD thesis committee [with Professors Michael Gervers (CMS) and Joseph Goering (History)], from 1 July 2001.

On 20 January 2006, at her Final Oral Examination, Ms. Krug successfully defended her doctoral dissertation, which was accepted subject to minor modifications.

The revised thesis was accepted by the School of Graduate Studies on 20 April 2006, and the Ph.D. degree was awarded at Convocation on 9 June 2006.

Since I am not permitted to accept supervision of new doctoral dissertations after my retirement, on 30 June 2003, she was therefore my final PhD student for which I am allowed to be the primary supervisor. I am, however, permitted to serve on Ph.D. thesis boards for new students.

(26) SLAVIN, Philip (Centre for Medieval Studies):

Dissertation Topic:

‘Feeding the Brethern: Grain Provisioning of Norwich Cathedral Priory, c. 1280 - 1370.’

Dissertation Committee: Professors Joseph Goering (supervisor), John Munro, David Townshend, and Lawrin Armstrong.

On 2 June 2008, at his Final Oral Examination, Philip Slavin successfully defended his PhD dissertation. The Ph.D. degree was awarded at the Fall Convocation, October 2008.

Philip Slavin has been awarded a two-year post-Doctoral Fellowship at Yale University; and he took up that fellowship in August 2008. In September, 2010, he took up a new two-year Post-Doctoral Fellowship at McGill University, with a renewal for 2012-2013. He has now accepted a position at the University of Kent, in Canterbury, England.

Recently his dissertation has been published in much revised and extended form (extended in time to the 1530s).⁵

(27) HAMONIC, Nicole (Centre for Medieval Studies)

Dissertation Topic:

Dissertation committee: Professors Michael Gervers (principal supervisor), John Munro, Isabelle Cochelin, and Lawrin Armstrong.

Ms. Hamonic successfully defended her dissertation, at the Centre for Medieval Studies, University of Toronto, on 13 April 2012.

Note:

On 14-16 March 2004, a group of my former Ph.D. students – now all colleagues – along with other colleagues from Europe and the U.S., organized and took part in this conference held at the Centre for Medieval Studies at the University of Toronto: Money, Markets, and Trade in Late Medieval Europe: an International Workshop in Honour of John Munro.

Most of the papers presented at this conference, along with several others, by former students and other colleagues, have now been published as a festschrift by E.J. Brill, in Leiden:

Lawrin Armstrong, Ivana Elbl and Martin M. Elbl, eds., Money, Markets and Trade in Late Medieval

⁵ Philip Slavin, Bread and Ale for the Brethren: The Provisioning of Norwich Cathedral Priory, c.1260-1536 (Hatfield, Herts: University of Hertfordshire Press, 2012).

Europe: Essays in Honour of John H.A. Munro, Series: Later Medieval Europe, vol. 1 (Leiden: E.J. Brill, 2007).

More details about this festschrift and two recent reviews have been posted on my Home Page (website).
