

Experiments in Market Design

THE 2010 MALIM HARDING VISITORSHIP LECTURE

ALVIN ROTH

Monday March 22, 2010

5pm-6:30pm, 7 Hart House Circle, Debates Room, Hart House, University of Toronto

The Departments of Economics and Political Science, University of Toronto, present Alvin E. Roth, the George Gund Professor of Economics and Business Administration at Harvard University. Professor Roth is a leading expert in the design of economic institutions. He has been involved in the design of the National Resident Matching Program for U.S. doctors, school choice systems in New York City and Boston, the New England Program for Kidney Exchange, the Market for Gastroenterology Fellows, and the market for new PhD economists.

This is a free public lecture. For further information, please call (416) 978-4724.

